Introducing: The "Lockdown Bobby" Project! Learn to sculpt, with Mark Coreth

This project is inspired by a new friendship struck up online, a scenario with which many of us are becoming familiar, between Greyfriars' Richard Frazer and renowned sculptor, Mark Coreth. Richard and Mark are excited about the project and invite you all to join in!

As we know well, the story of Greyfriars Bobby is loved the world over and the Kirk receives thousands of visitors (in normal times) to visit Bobby's sculpture and grave. Mark notes "the story is of loyalty, courage, dedication, respect, selflessness and kindness. A story not just of a small dog, but also a community of people who came together around those lessons through compassion and sympathy."

Art, including sculpture, is something that we can enjoy by ourselves, but also helps us communicate with each other and come together as a community uniting around a common theme. Richard and Mark hope many of us can come together to enjoy this project, have some fun learning to sculpt, and raise awareness of the importance of inclusive communities that create equal opportunities for access to the arts and much more. One way we do that here, is through the Grassmarket Community Project. This art project is timely as the GCP celebrates a fantastic 10 YEARS since it first became a registered charity. So what better time to come together to have some fun.

Three short "learn to sculpt" tutorial webcasts will be available on the Kirk's website and YouTube channel from 2pm on Mondays 6, 13 and 20 July. Mark insists that almost everybody can give it a go and have fun! He has lots of experience helping people learn to sculpt: young and old, in different countries and circumstances. Whether you've never done anything like this before (Richard and GCP's CEO Jonny will be joining in!) or regularly enjoy artistic activities, please do consider having a go.

Materials are designed to be affordable (around £15 plus postage) and easily accessible online. The welcome letter at the end of this news provides a bit more information, with links to suggested material to make it easy!

We will put on an exhibition in the Kirk next year, as part of the Kirk's re-planned 400 year celebrations. So, please help us spread the word – friends, families, social groups, children, adults of all ages, whoever and wherever! Everyone is very warmly invited to join in, have some fun and help make it a success.

Study Service, Sunday at 7pm

The topic for the Study Service Zoom meeting is: BODY, SOUL AND SPIRIT IN THE BIBLE.

Historically, there have been very different views on the relation between body, soul and spirit. In the Old Testament the word translated as "soul" in English is "nephesh". In the Christian tradition, the soul is commonly thought of as different from the body and as surviving death. Yet in the Old Testament "nephesh" is not immortal and dies with the body. For Luther, the body dies and the soul sleeps while it waits for the body to be raised, whereas for Calvin the soul goes immediately to be with Christ while it too waits. What view best fits all that the bible says as a whole? In particular, what do we make of 2 Corinthians 4.16-5.4, where Paul's Greek says that our outward man is wasting away while our inner man is being renewed?

If you are interested in joining the study service, please get in touch to find out more: www.greyfriarskirk.com/get-in-touch/

Edinburgh Heart for Art

Packs have now been sent out to members of this group, to do some artistic work at home. If you would like to know more about Heart for Art or find out how to join in, please contact coordinator Maureen Digby: maureen.digby@crossreach.org.uk or 01324 718674.

Church on Margins: next monthly reflection and discussion at 2pm, Thursday 9th of July

Reflection will be led by Lynne Cullens. In her own words, Lynne is a working-class, single mother and Church of England priest. Former charity CEO and deputy CEO. Working and praying to see the Church reoriented to face the poor. As well as her parish in Stockport and Brinnington, she is a member of the National Estates Church Network and the Archbishop of Canterbury's Commission on Housing, Church and Community. She blogs at <https://lynnecullens.com/>

If you would like to join the session on 9 July please email coordinator@greyfriarskirk.com for the Zoom link. You can listen to, watch or share any of the reflections from Church on the Margins sessions, available online at <https://www.church-poverty.org.uk/tag/reflecting-together/>

Donations

With the church building closed to outside activity we are totally dependent on the generous financial support of our members, regular attenders, online visitors and friends.

As we cannot circulate the usual offering plate, the online alternative is through this link: www.paypal.me/greyfriars400. Although headings refer to Greyfriars 400 and Outreach, donations will be used for the same general Greyfriars Kirk purposes as regular offerings; ministry, the Kirk building and staff. Many thanks.

Telling a Better Story: Why Faith and Science Belong Together

The Faraday Institute free online course takes place 29 June to 3 July: www.faraday.cam.ac.uk/event/telling-a-better-story-why-faith-and-science-belong-together/

Pastoral Care at Greyfriars Kirk

The Kirk has an active group of volunteers, helping us to stay connected. If you would like to help out in this group, know someone that needs help, or would like a chat yourself please contact Associate Minister, Ken Luscombe (contact details at the top of this newsletter). Ken will enjoy hearing from you and can put you in touch with others too.

Future Services

Each week Greyfriars Kirk will continue to provide services online, shortly in advance, for many of us to come together in worship at the usual times:

- Main Service, 11am.
- Mid-week Prayers & Reflection, Thursdays 1pm.

Kirk Closure

The Kirk team is closely monitoring changes and plans announced by Scottish Government each week, as well as engaging with Presbytery and other groups to discuss options and guidance as these develop. At present there is no update, and the Kirk remains closed. We will provide updates on the situation if that changes, as soon as we are able.

A warm welcome to the Lockdown Bobby Project,

We are delighted you are joining us to have some fun and raise awareness of a great cause!

Sculptor Mark Coreth will be teaching us to sculpt in a series of short webcasts, available from 2pm on Mondays 6, 13 and 20 July. Each webcast will provide demonstrations, explanations and helpful tips to start you sculpting.

This letter explains suggested materials to buy so you can join in. The sculptures are designed to be made using affordable, accessible materials and we hope you will enjoy working with them! You can choose whether to have a go making one, or all three. Skills will be built up each week.

We really hope you will enjoy taking part, and we would love to see some photos of your creations and the fun you have making these.

from everyone at,

Greyfriars Kirk & Grassmarket Community Project

Suggested materials:

To make all 3 sculptures, Mark suggests the following from his suppliers:

4 packs (a little extra!) of Newplast (£2.84 per pack, plus postage)
www.industrialplasters.com/prod/modelling-materials/newplast-white

2 Meters of 3mm sectioned aluminium wire (around £2.50, plus postage)
<https://www.industrialplasters.com/prod/armature-wire-wire-netting/armature-wire-1>

Plus some garden wire, and the cutting tools described below.

The following provides more information on options on materials and what Mark will cover each week:

Week One Webcast: MODELLING IN CLAY

Available from 2pm, Monday 6 July

For the first week, select a clay and colour you would like to use from the varieties widely available online from local art shops or market-platforms like Amazon and Ebay.

Mark suggests around 500g of Plasticine, or other modelling clay such as Fimo, Das, Milliput or Newplast (see pictures below). Roughly the right amount to fill a half pint jug!

Week Two Webcast: MAKING A SIMPLE ARMATURE

Available from 2pm, Monday 13 July

This week, Mark recommends using 500g of Newplast and 2 meters of garden wire, or similar fairly stiff wire, with pliers to help you cut this into sections for the simple armature (framework).

Week Three Webcast: A MORE ADVANCED ARMATURE

Available from 2pm, Monday 20 July

In this last "learn to sculpt" webcast, Mark will demonstrate making an armature using square sectioned wire, in this case 2 meters of 3mm sectioned aluminium wire. For this, pliers are recommended for cutting. Plus, of course, around 500g of Newplast!

While you are here...can you help others enjoy arts and activities too?

The Grassmarket Community Project runs a wide variety of free activities every week, which creates opportunities for learning, social engagement and fun, for many of Edinburgh's most vulnerable people. Activities include practical (IT, gardening, cooking), physical (walking, table tennis, yoga), creative (arts, choir, drama, creative writing) and wellbeing (mindfulness, retreats & more).

If you can, please consider making a small donation as you enjoy this project, to help others access opportunities for fun, creativity and learning new skills.
